Worksheet 23: PSA 1

Name: _____ Class: _____ Roll No.: _____ Date: _____

A. Each sentence of the paragraph is numbered. Underline the error in that line and write the correct word in the space given below. One has been done for you.

[1]Did you know that until May 5 of every year, your not really working for yourself? [2]A group in Washington, D.C., has learned that it takes workers an average of four months and four days to earn enough to pay there taxes. [3]The group found in it's study that taxes eat up 34 per cent of all the income in the United States. [4]So, if workers used their entire income for taxes, they would not be threw paying them until May. [5]Being that May 5 is the first day people really work for themselves, the study group has some advise. [6]It would like a bill past naming May 5 "Tax Freedom Day." [7]On that day, you would give yourself a brake, irregardless of how hard you worked. [8]For, from May 5 on, you would finally be you're own boss. [9]The only thing batter than this would be well, I can't really say. [10]I think it is better to work than not work at awl.

1. you're 2. _____ 3. _____ 4. _____ 5. _____

6. _____ 7. _____ 8. _____ 9. _____ 10. _____

B. Replace the underlined words with one word from the box.

grave	transparent	ecstatic	meticulous
perplexed	serene	lavish

1. The politician assured the public that he would be very open in all his dealings if he is elected. _____

2. The winner of the contest was very happy when he was presented with a cheque amounting to Rs 100,000. _____

3. All this conflicting news report is making me very confused. _____

4. Mhonthung has submitted a very detailed report on the work done by his team in the last five years. _____

5. There was a lot of confusion and chaos in the park. Despite that, Senti remained very calm. _____

6. My next door neighbour made it big in the mining business. So, his very fancy lifestyle is reflective of that. _____

7. I am in very serious trouble as I accidentally deleted the report compiled by the fact-finding committee. _____